Dear Miss Moscovitz:

Your letter regarding dramatic material was referred to the office of the National Activities Department of the Jewish Peoples Fraternal Order.

At the present time we have a play on the fire, called: "The Man Who Pulled the Trigger" which will be mimeographed in a few days. It is a one-act play dealing with the problem of discrimination by the large utilities. In a short time we also expect to put out a few more plays.

"The Man Who Pulled the Trigger" cost 25 cents a copy and we will send you any number of copies you desire on receipt of your order.

As you are no doubt aware, there is a dearth of progressive plays and skits at the present time and we have just begun to take steps to remedy the situation at least to a slight degree. However, it may be possible to find some plays to suit your purpose at Samuel French who publish a great number of plays. The address is 25 West 45th Street, New York 19, N.Y. If you write to them, they no doubt will send you a catalog.

We will be glad to cooperate with you. We hope to have much more material in the future.

Sincerely yours,

Sam Pevzner
Director of National Activities
